HEALING THE WHOLE CHILD. NATURALLY.

Holistic Child Health Newsletter February 2018

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the Holistic Child Health Newsletter.

The goal of my holistic pediatric practice, and of this newsletter, is to inform and support parents to become more empowered as the primary health care providers for their children. Extending far beyond Western medicine's conventional treatments, holistic medicine and mindful parenting allow us to boost children's natural immunity, support their optimum health and wellness, safely heal any illnesses, and prevent disease-without dangerous side effects. Holistic medicine provides us with the tools to nurture the physical, emotional, social and spiritual health of your children.

Over the coming months and years, I intend to use this newsletter to address some of your concerns as parents, share information that you might want to add to your knowledge base, and inform you of important issues and current events that are happening in the news, and in your area.

Together we can heal the whole child. Naturally.

Yours in Health,

Lawrence B. Palevsky, MD

ACTION ALERT

ACTION ALERT FOR NEW YORK !

Protect Your Right to a Religious Exemption

Ask your legislators to co-sponsor S6141d or A8123a

Please take action to protect your right to a religious exemption from vaccine mandates, and your child's right to attend public school.

Click Here

<http://www.capwiz.com/a-champ/issues/alert/?alertid=79563626&type=ST>

.....and then on the Take Action Link on the page to send messages to your New York State Senator and Assemblymember asking them to co-sponsor S6141d in the Senate and A8123a in the Assembly.

The bills require the use of a standard statewide religious exemption application form, and when it is completed a religious exemption will be issued, just like is currently done in 46 other states, and children will be allowed to attend public school regardless of their vaccination status.

No more children getting kicked out of school, no questions will be asked, no multi-hour interrogations will be allowed, clergy will not be contacted, people will not be forced to discuss their most intimate religious beliefs with a public school employee, children will not be barred from getting an education.

There are fewer than 40 out of the 700 plus public school districts in New York that force people to defend their religious beliefs, unfortunately New York City is one of those districts, where more than a third of the state's students live.

And the number of difficult districts is growing.

Forty-seven states allow religious exemptions. All of them, except New York, allow automatic religious exemptions upon completion of a standard form, or submitting a letter. New York is the ONLY state that forces people to defend their religious beliefs, and allows school districts to deny an application.

In Connecticut, Vermont and Pennsylvania parents fill out a standard form, like in 26 other states, and they automatically get an exemption. In New Jersey, like 20 other states, parents simply write a letter and they get their religious exemption.

And just because your school district currently does not harass applicants doesn't mean they won't in the future. All it requires is a new Superintendent, new members of a school board, sometimes just a new school nurse can lead to a complete change in policy.

And those school districts engage in a wide range of abusive practices: New York City enforces an illegal 1.2% quota on all types of exemptions.

Some school districts interrogate parents for hours about their religious beliefs, health practices, interpretation of scripture, prayer practices and other topics no public employee has any business discussing.

Parents will have an exemption in one school district but then they move and the new school district denies an exemption
Some families with children in different schools will be allowed an exemption at one school, but not another school where a sibling attends.

NYC is notorious for allowing an exemption at one school and then withdrawing the exemption when the student moves on to kindergarten, middle school or high school.

This law will have no effect on public health. Remember, 46 states already have this right, and have always had this right. It is time for New York to get out of the religious inquisition business and allow all children to attend school

Please share this message with friends and family, and please post to social networks.
